I know you've been told some things, about me and my past.
They tell you that I'll break your heart, and my love will never last.
I'm telling you that's just not true, believe me when I say.
I love you now and I'll be true, for ever and a day.

I promiss I'll protect you , and wipe away your tears.
And darling I will be with you through out all the years.
I'll try to make you happy in each and every way.
And I'll be yours and you'll be mine for ever and a day.

So don't listen to the gossip don't listen to the lies.
For they couldn't make you happy even if they tried.
You know that I love me so please don't turn away.
And lose a love that could be yours. For ever and a day.

For ever and A day, my love I promiss you.
I'll never go away unless you tell me too.
So try to understand the things I have to say
I promiss you undying love forever and a day.

I promiss I'll protect you , and wipe away your tears.
And darling I will be with you through out all the years.
I'll try to make you happy in each and every way.
And I'll be yours and you'll be mine for ever and a day.

I'll be yours and you'll be mine for ever and a day.
