

Life Goes On
Written By AR Kessinger
03/09/2012
Copy-right/Registered B M I

On a cold and rainy day, they lay her body down, a long and fruitful life so they say
Then into this world of wonders, came a little baby girl, just a mile or more away.
She will never know her grandma, I say with a smile, one thing is for certain I believe.
God will send an Angel to watch a little child, that may be the job that Grandma needs.

Life goes on, life goes on, a new life is started, another life is gone.
one thing is for certain, Life goes on.

A soldier off in battle, when the postman came along.
He gave to him a letter, from his darling wife back home.
He put it in his pocket, said I'll read it when I can.
But he died that night, life is hard to understand.

they retrieved his body, and prepared him for his flight.
They opened up the letter, he received from home that night.
It said I have good news for you that will fill your heart with joy.
At three A M this morning, we had a darling baby boy.

Life goes on, life goes on, a new life has started while another life is gone.
but one thing is for certain Life goes on.

For nine long months she carried, the child within her womb.
Now at last the time had come, they were in the delivery room.
In death like pane she would strained, she thought that she would die.
Then all was done her race was run, when she heard her baby cry.

With one touch of her baby's hand, she drifted of to sleep.
Never to awake again, this one the Lord will keep.

Life goes on, life goes on, a new life has started while another life is gone.
But one thing is for certain, Life goes on.

one thing is for certain, Life goes on.